Hearing Set for Small Business Owners to Comment About Excessive Federal Regulatory Enforcement

RICHMOND, VA – Small business owners, community leaders and representatives of trade associations concerned about excessive enforcement of federal rules can voice their complaints at a U.S. Small Business Administration Regulatory Fairness Board Hearing in Salem, Virginia on Thursday, April 7 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The hearing will be held at the National College of Business & Technology, Roanoke Valley Campus, 1813 East Main Street, Salem, Virginia, 24153 in the Conference Center, Room 135.

SBA National Ombudsman Senior Advisor Peter Sorum, members of SBA's Region III Regulatory Fairness Board, and representatives of federal regulatory agencies will hear comments and complaints about regulatory enforcement and compliance.

"One of the biggest concerns small business owners face is unfair enforcement of federal regulations. They also worry about telling their stories because they fear retaliation by federal agencies," Barrera said. "Small business owners want to play by the rules and comply with federal regulations," he added, "and we want to encourage federal regulators to assist business owners with compliance rather than go straight to the penalty stage."

This forum offers small business owners a chance to express their concerns about federal compliance practices in SBA's Richmond District area, which includes all of Virginia with the exception of the Cities of Arlington and Alexandria and the Counties of Fairfax and Loudoun.

Comments and complaints presented during the hearing will be directed to the appropriate federal regulatory agency. This information will also be shared with federal officials in the Ombudsman's annual report to Congress, and with managers of federal regulatory agencies to assist them with their enforcement actions.

The National Ombudsman's authority to respond to comments on compliance issues is limited to federal regulatory enforcement matters and does not include concerns about obtaining federal contracts, regulations in general, or securing guaranteed loans.

The Salem hearing is open to the public. Those wishing to testify should contact Peggy FaJohn at (804) 771-2400, extension 126, or by email at margaret.fajohn@sba.gov before the hearing. Should a small business owner or representative be unable to attend, written testimony may be sent in advance of the hearing and entered in the public record. Testimony may also be taken during the hearing by telephone at (540) 986-1800, ext. 402.
